

Relationship Reflections from 2012 and Intentions for 2013

Gifts given and received....

What new behaviors did we practice this year and how did they make a difference?

What were the most important things we learned about each other?

What are we most proud of about our relationship now?

Future steps in co-creating our relationship...

What new ways of being are we looking forward to seeing in ourselves and each other?

What new actions will we take to improve our relationship in the coming year?

What difference do we want these to make?

What requests do we have of each other? What offers do we want to make to each other?

How will our relationship inspire others?
