ARTICLE VII – GENERAL CLUB POLICIES

Section A: New instructors get paid at lower rates than established instructors with the club, unless we have good reason to pay them at similar or higher rates. This establishes a one-semester ”try out” period, after which we can increase hourly rate. The rates will vary with instructor, but professional instructors will generally be paid the prevailing rate at established, respected studios. A professional instructor is one that has been certified to teach ballroom dance, and is experienced: has been teaching professionally and/or competing for a while.

Section B: Club officers are entitled to discounted classes and entry to social dance, as long as they actively help the club function through their term of office, and as long as the club has sufficient funds to cover their cost of enrollment. Former club officers may be granted discounted classes for up to one semester, as long as they have shown outstanding participation and support through their term of office, and as long as the club has sufficient funds to cover their cost of enrollment. The current executive board approval is required in each specific case. Any club member may be granted a discounted entry to social dance, if they help to organize it by participating in room set up, advertising, etc.

Section C: The club members that have some club equipment in their possession, must turn in these items at the end of their term in office. This equipment includes, but is not limited to, CDs, boom box, banners etc. In addition, as these items are needed, the person having them in their possession is responsible for bringing them to club activities as required, for normal functioning of the club.

Section D: Hiring/Firing instructors is a function that should be done primarily by the club officers. Anyone can make suggestions and recommendations, but the final decision is made by the club officers. Similarly the club officers convey the decision(s) to the instructor(s).

Section E: Depending on the SGA funding situation, the club will try to partially reimburse people that compete at recognized competitions. The reimbursement could cover cost of registration, lodging, transport, food; however this entirely depends on the funds the club has, and the number of people that do compete, and so is a fluid situation. A decision will be made each semester, setting guidelines for such reimbursement so that all people that compete as UMBC members, and are so recognized by the club officers, will be fairly reimbursed.

Section F: Any extra costs that the club incurs, will be paid to the person that makes the actual purchase, using carryover funds, as long as the person brings receipts and makes the purchases with knowledge of the club officers.
